HER VETERAN defaulting bank cashiers who shun Canada and Brazil and go to North Dakota, where the Legislature makes United States Senates of such men.

Mrs. L. has at last succeeded in getting into office. She is Chairman of the Board of Charities of Kansas, the only lady on the board. The three other members are gentlemen.

SOUTH AMERICAN newspapers comment in very favorable terms on the inaugural message of President Cleveland, but seems strange to them that he made no reference in the address to the southern republics.

The state of affairs as they now exist at Frankfort is suggestive of the fact that it is necessary to make a change politically in the control of the State government. Nothing short of that will bring about the desired result.

In April the State of Rhode Island holds her annual election. The State has already been blighted with a Democratic corruption fund, but for all that little Rhode Island is likely to set her sister states a good example by declaring for the G.O.P.

KENTUCKY World's Fair Commissioners, to serve without pay are becoming fashionable. We move to amend the law in reference to this matter which has passed the legislature, by making all good Kentuckians eligible to this much sought after commissionership. The more the merrier. Give every body a chance.

On the 14th the California legislature passed a resolution to submit to the people a constitutional amendment removing the capital to San Jose, providing the latter city shall be added to the state ten acres of land — a bonus of $1,000,000. This action was taken because a local paper had been criticising the actions of certain members.

JOHN YOUNG BROWN, is without a doubt, the governor of Kentucky, and is a representative governor a governor for the people. The hot-shot controversy now being carried on between Gov. Brown and ex-Gov. Buckner is laying bare holy horrors. It carried on to finish, some rich developments may occur. It will be made public, too, perhaps, why ex-State Treasurer's bondsmen were not held accountable and compelled to make good "Home Dick" Tate's defalcation a few yrs ago.

An election of a full Board of Tr. and a Town Marshal for Earling, I'll be held on Saturday, April 1st. Pending this election, it becomes the duty of all legal voters to bestir themselves and to see that none other than worthy and efficient men are elected to fill these important offices the ensuing year. The present incumbents are all that we can, in justice to ourselves, hope for. An improvement is impossible. The present board to a man, be he Democrat or Republican, should be re-elected. Politics in our city elections has been heretofore an unknown quantity, and the custom is likely to continue. If not, why not?

The City Marshalship, a very important office — one requiring more tact and experience on the part of the Marshal, is by no means the least in importance to be filled. The present incumbents Jno. T. Barnard, a tried and true officer, who has established himself at home and abroad an enviable reputation as an officer, honest and fearless in the discharge of his duties, is a candidate to succeed himself. Mr. Barnett is without question the citizens' choice as will be made manifest on April 1, when the votes will be counted. We are not speaking disparagingly of other candidates there may be in the race, but simply as a reminder of state, that it is well to let well enough alone and be content with what we have.

WASHINGTON, March 20.

In the nature of things, Federal offices will soon begin to mount their Republican plumbings and fixtures, and the work of removals, instead. We may expect shortly to see the unpolished dove of patronage shine and shimmer with true springtime color. One by one the answers to the news — all the news within its scope of territory, and to possess the patronage of a thinking and reading community. The paper that has no fixed policy, but goes slouched shambling along, has but a limited amount of thunder and that of the kind that rebounds.

At every turn, some real or imaginary slight, injury or what not is felt in some quarter or locality by some one. But what of that? Every successfully conducted newspaper in the land has friends and enemies, and so has every individual. Too many country papers, should run in their own interest and be subject to their dictation. They do most assuredly. They do indeed, particularly when, for some wrong act of theirs, they become the subject of some interesting news paragraphs.

RIGHT AND WRONG.

The determination of Senator General Bissell to make appointments on the recommendation of Congressmen is only to run out the same old story. It is a mistake. It is a useless run counter to the Congressman's selection, but a great mistake. Instead they go running to Washington with a stack of petitions and signatures. If you can't get Congressmen to do your bidding, you had as well have it if there is no need of going to Washington.

The point of a point is there in the paragraph just quoted, entirely misses Postmaster Bissell's determination which is set forth in the following:

"I report from Washington, that Senator General Bissell is not the only member of the Administration who is interested in the right of members of Congress to make appointments for the Federal officials for their districts.

Several local "speditions" and the persons conducting them will soon come to grief. Some feelings are going to be hurt and some money to change hands.

It is to be hoped that the young women who are pleasant, and certainly a faithful woman at the used of our post office, is a charge to thought of deep interest.

The writer trusts that our citizens will think that the needs of the town in this connection and seriously dwell upon the matter and do all possible to bring the greatest good to the greatest number.

Oswanee, May 1.

It is All Right.

It was a holding pamphlet in its local columns: "Dan Holland and James Payne have opened up a barbershop on West Broadway street." This calls to memory that there was a young sonorous voice in the town, John Victor, who was so patriotic that he painted his house in green, and at last accosted the young man in Hopkinsville on Tuesday, paying his daily visitation.
